

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH – ROB MARSHALL

Rob Marshall, an employee of bp America Inc., is Engineering Authority for bp's Gulf of Mexico development projects. Mr. Marshall, a 27-year employee of bp and heritage company Amoco, has held project and operations positions in Canada, Norway, Russia, Egypt and the U.S. Before his appointment as Engineering Authority, he was EPC manager for the deepwater Mardi Gras pipelines project in the Gulf of Mexico. He is a member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers and a registered engineer with the Association of Professional Engineers, Geologists and Geophysicists of Alberta. Mr. Marshall received a B.Sc. (Chem. Eng.) from the University of Alberta (Edmonton, Canada) in 1979.