

Biographical Sketch – Richard Morgan

Richard is currently the manager of the Deepwater Focus Area, which is responsible for delivering key technology and unique competencies required by Chevron's global deepwater assets and prospects. He has over 30 years of engineering and management assignments in the upstream business with a majority of that time in the offshore sector. He has worked assignment in numerous International locations, Alaska and the Lower 48. Richard holds a BS degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Louisiana - Lafayette.